2019 PRELIMINARY SCIENTIFIC PROGRAMME
It will be my great pleasure to welcome you to the 40th annual SICOT Orthopaedic World Congress in Muscat, Oman from 4 – 7 December 2019. SICOT has now evolved into the largest orthopaedic society in the world with thousands of corresponding members from 119 countries. The Congress will be held in collaboration with the Pan Arab Orthopaedic Association, and we are expecting this to be one of the largest congresses to date, with doctors from all over the world gathering to share their experience. The Congress will reinforce and foster the SICOT mission to promote the advancement of science and the art of orthopaedics and traumatology at an international level for the improvement of patient care, development of research and education and to facilitate the exchange of professional experience and fellowship.

There are three plenary lectures from famous surgeons of diverse fields in addition to seminars, symposia, video sessions and workshops. The prestigious SICOT Research Award papers will also be presented and selected.

The venue city, Muscat, Oman, is a beautiful destination by the sea with a wider landscape that varies from mountains to deserts, with a wealth of history and intrigue for all attendees. The conference venue is state-of-the-art and will allow all to exchange ideas in comfort. Muscat has much splendour to offer accompanying family members, with good options for pre- and post-conference tours.

SICOT has seen remarkable development since its foundation on 10 October 1929 to become the global International Society for Orthopaedic Surgery and Traumatology it is in the world of today. From our original 12 member nations and five spoken languages, we have expanded to more than 110 member nations speaking well over 100 languages. SICOT presents orthopaedic surgeons from all around the world the best opportunity to exchange knowledge and information and learn from each other’s experience.

So, spread the word: ‘all aboard this most exciting gathering of innovation and technology in orthopaedic surgery at the 40th SICOT meeting in Muscat Oman’! Please do not miss this opportunity for a great academic and social event.

We are waiting for you with open arms and a warm welcome. I look forward to seeing you in Muscat!

John Dormans
President, SICOT
Message from the Congress President

On behalf of SICOT’s Congress Organising Committee, it is our pleasure to be celebrating the 40th SICOT Orthopaedic World Congress and the 90th anniversary of SICOT with you all. This will be the second time the event has been held here in the Gulf and the very first for it to be held in Muscat, Oman.

With doctors attending from all over the world it is fitting that this is taking place here, in a region that has served as a focal point in the exchange of trade, knowledge and culture between the East and West for millennia. Oman’s history dates back 5000 years and it is the oldest country in the Gulf, with an empire that once controlled the seas from the straits of Hormuz to the coastlines of East Africa. From the Silk Route, which saw the exchange of goods between Europe, India and China, to the production of frankincense and its trading ports across East Africa, Oman possesses a rich history in commerce, making it an open-minded multicultural society.

It is in this atmosphere of exchange and diversity that myself along with the Programme Chair, Mr Vikas Khanduja and the SICOT Programme Committee are proud to bring you this Congress in collaboration with the Pan Arab Orthopaedic Association. We are expecting this to be one of the largest congresses to date, and it will provide a golden opportunity for young and mature orthopaedic surgeons in the form of workshops, lectures, free paper sessions, symposia and presentations on recent advancements in orthopaedics. We are already planning on bringing back some favourite features from the Congress in 2018; the wickedly fast ‘Just-A-Minute’ presentations (one abstract, one minute, one slide, one question!) and fantastic Keynote Lectures to open free paper sessions (given by key opinion leaders), but there will also be some surprises for those who have been to a SICOT Congress before. For the first time we will be holding the International Hip Dysplasia Congress in partnership with the International Hip Dysplasia Institute as part of the meeting, and you should keep an eye out for which other new partner societies we have on board.

We, the Organising Committee, have put the programme together as always with inclusiveness at its heart; like the merchants on the Silk Road, we hope to encourage sharing from East to West, from young to old. Whether you are attending for the first time and will be taking the SICOT Diploma Examination or you are coming again to give a lecture and meet old friends, we are looking forward to seeing you and will make every effort to ensure you have a memorable experience.

Mohamed Darwish
Congress President, SICOT
Message from the Scientific Programme Chairman

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the SICOT Board of Directors and the Programme Committee, I would like to introduce you to our first look at our proposed programme for the 40th SICOT Orthopaedic World Congress, to be held in December 2019 in Muscat, Oman!

First of all I need to thank everyone who was involved in and attended the last Congress in Montreal, Canada - its success is the foundation for this year's event. We will be building on last year's instructional programme to bring you a diversity of speakers from across the globe, covering not just the usual mainstays of orthopaedics and traumatology but also some more unusual but very pertinent subjects such as Road Safety and Injury Prevention.

We aim always to bring together surgeons from all walks of life, believing that we all have something to learn from one another. As well as expecting registrants from over 80 countries, we have also looked to ensure as usual that the programme suits surgeons at all levels in their career. The SICOT Diploma Examination, 9th SICOT Educational Day with the theme of Trauma and the 31st International Cooperative Course for Polytrauma Management will all be part of the pre-Congress events on Wednesday 4 December. Finally, we appreciate that so much learning needs balancing with some fun - the social programme is shaping up to be as phenomenal as SICOT members have come to expect.

I truly believe that magical Muscat is the perfect place to bring you all together as colleagues, teachers, students and friends. The state-of-the-art venue, beautiful weather and mystical city are sure to be a stimulating and comfortable environment to educate, be educated and network in.

I will see you there!

Very best wishes,

Vikas Khanduja
Scientific Programme Chairman, SICOT
PLENARY SPEAKERS

LEWIS ZIRKLE

Dr Lewis Zirkle graduated from Davidson College in 1962 and Duke University Medical Center in 1966, where he also completed his surgical internship. After one year of orthopaedic residency at Duke University Medical Center, he was drafted by the US Army and sent to Vietnam. Dr Zirkle was given permission to treat Vietnamese civilians in one wing of the hospital, in addition to treating the US military. Serving patients who had no choice in their medical treatment was very rewarding and this service later led Dr Zirkle to volunteer with Orthopedics Overseas and other organisations. He finished his orthopaedic training in the US Army in 1972. Dr Zirkle's experience in Vietnam and his volunteer work overseas led him to the realisation that the donation of appropriate implants must be combined with education. This inspired the formation of SIGN Fracture Care International in 1999. Many people in the USA and developing countries have contributed to the journey of SIGN. Implants and instruments are designed and manufactured in SIGN’s headquarters in Richland, Washington and donated to hospitals around the world. Dr Zirkle retired from private practice in 2008 to devote himself full time to SIGN. SIGN is now used in over 300 hospitals and 50 developing countries. SIGN surgeons have performed 232,000 SIGN surgeries for poor patients in developing countries. Dr Zirkle has the utmost respect for the surgeons who perform SIGN surgery in developing countries, as well as all those who assist SIGN with implementing the vision of creating equality of fracture care throughout the world.

MAHMOUD HAFEZ

Professor Mahmoud Hafez is a pioneer in developing patient-specific instrument (PSI) technology for total knee replacement (TKR) and is Professor and Head of the Orthopaedic Department at October 6 University, Egypt. Training and working in the UK for more than ten years, Professor Hafez got his FRCS(Ed) and postgraduate MD degree from Leeds University. He has completed subspecialty fellowships in hip and knee arthroplasty at Wrightington Hospital, Wigan, United Kingdom; Western Penn Hospital, Pittsburgh, USA; and St Michael's Hospital, Toronto University, Canada. After 17 years working abroad, he went back to Egypt with the mission to exploit his skills and experiences in research, education and clinical care and to share computer-assisted orthopaedic surgery (CAOS) technology in his native country. His CAOS experience began 1998 at the University of Hull, working to develop a robot for TKR. His MD research project in Leeds resulted in the development a novel PSI technique for TKR. During his work in Pittsburgh, he tested the reliability of PSI and gained more experience in navigation and robotics. In Egypt, he has established a research and development lab to advance PSI technology leading to the filing of 18 patents. His patent ‘Open-platform and hospital-based PSI’ has made the technique simple, inexpensive and suited for complex cases in developing countries. He now uses PSI routinely for complex and bilateral TKR in a cost-effective manner. Inspired by the US ‘Operation Walk’ he reproduced a similar model, performing 43 TKRs for needy patients (with implants from the charity MEK) during the uprising in Egypt, when there was no government funding for TKR.

RANDALL LODER

Dr Randall Loder visits us from the Indiana University School of Medicine and James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, where he is the George J. Garceau Professor of Pediatric Orthopedic Surgery and Professor at Indiana University School of Medicine. Dr Loder is acknowledged as one of the top experts in the world on slipped capital femoral epiphysis and paediatric hip conditions in general. He will be speaking on the role that paediatric hip pathology plays in adult hip degeneration and total hip arthroplasty. Dr Loder received his MD from Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis, Missouri in 1980, then undertook his Orthopedic Residency at the Medical College of Ohio, Toledo followed by his fellowship in Pediatric Orthopaedics at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children. He has been a Professor of Orthopedic Surgery at Indiana University School of Medicine (where he has also served as Chairman) since 2003.

2019 SICOT RESEARCH AWARDS

The SICOT Research Award Programme comprises of three awards of 2,000 US dollars each. The winners will be chosen based on scientific merit by the newly formed Research Academy with one winner in each of the following areas:

1) Clinical Science
2) Basic Science
3) Young Investigator (main author must be less than 40 years old)

Papers submitted for the contest must be complete papers on original work, not previously published or submitted for publication. The SICOT award-winning manuscripts will be published in International Orthopaedics. All other submitted manuscripts will be considered for publication in International Orthopaedics following the regular peer-review process.

The awards are open to both SICOT and non-SICOT members. We are asking interested applicants to submit full manuscripts in a format suitable for publication in International Orthopaedics electronically to awards@sicot.org. The last date for submission is 15 July 2019. This format requires the submitted manuscript to include no more than 2,500 words, an abstract of 150 words, no more than five figures, three tables and a maximum of 25 references.

Winners will be notified by end of August 2019. One of the authors of each winning manuscript must be prepared, at her/his own expense, to come and present the paper at the SICOT Orthopaedic World Congress in Muscat, 4 - 7 December 2019.
